At Corbion, we exist to champion preservation in all its forms, preserving food and food production, health, and our planet.

Are you passionate about working with financial data and is it your ambition to grow within an international Business Control department? Are you a dedicated team-player with very strong analytical and reporting skills and interested in understanding not only the numbers but even more their business context? Are you known for clearly bringing across your message to finance and non-finance colleagues and are you appreciated for your meaningful contributions to important business decisions? If the answer is yes, we may have the perfect role for you!

As a Business Controller at Corbion you are responsible for the global operational reporting. Your primary responsibilities include providing insightful finance analysis and collaborating with management to steer the production facilities in reaching their financial objectives. You are a hands-on “go-getter” and a business partner who is highly proactive and accustomed to successfully partnering with leadership.

You are based out of our Corporate HQ in Amsterdam or our Global Business, Operations and Innovation Hub in Gorinchem and you report to the Senior Director Finance Global Operations.

Responsibilities

As the Business Controller Global Operations, your responsibilities include:

Monthly preparation and presentation of the OPS LT report

Period reporting & forecasting of Corbion CAPEX

Work as a business expert on SAC (BI) and support operations finance and his business partners to improve their use of SAC.

Responsible for global cost centers in which you prepare budget, monthly analysis and challenge responsible cost center owners with financial impact of business decisions and results

Support the Senior Director Operations Finance in ad-hoc business analysis requests

As Controller you are a key participant in the finance operations team and having contact with stakeholders across and within all levels of the organization

Context

The Business Controller Global Operations is part of the Business Control Team and reports to the Senior Director Finance Global Operations. Business Controllers in Corbion act as finance business partner for their respective departments and are focused on value creation.

About you
