

Mechanical Engineer

Apply Now

Company: AWL-Techniek

Location: Netherlands

Category: architecture-and-engineering

As Mechanical Engineer you will design AWL machines based on known or new concepts. We supply these machines mainly to customers in the general industry, automotive and logistic industry.

What is ultimately built on the floor is our product. You are really working on something concrete.

You will work on projects for the general industry. In this versatile position, you develop the concepts of the design, support or organize doing concept testing, you are responsible for the mechanical design, purchasing specifications and you have an active role in the project team. You have regular contact with customers, suppliers and our other Engineering disciplines. You contribute to the further development of our standards and concepts.

AWL also attaches great value to the development of its employees. Depending on your wishes and ambitions, you can grow to become, for example, a Lead Engineer!
