Job Description

MPS is looking for a Staff Analog Design Engineer to join the Automotive BMS Product Line. As a part of the team, you will be focused on analog design with the ability to collaborate on the product's definition, testability, and end applications robustness. This is a great opportunity where your success is only limited by your creativity.

Responsibilities

Design analog circuits including but not limited to: LDO's, Charge Pumps, Bandgaps, Amplifiers, and/or DAC's, ADC's, and other precision circuits.

Determine block tradeoffs and topology selection

Actively participates in the entire product development cycle, from product definition to product introduction

Determines design-for-test strategies to evaluate block performance

Provide guidance to layout engineers on critical analog implementation aspects, monitors progress of layouts, and closes the loop with post layout extraction and simulation.

Work with a team of engineers to evaluate intended product behavior pre tape-out and post tape-out.

Preferred Qualification

Requires BSEE/MSEE or Equivalent in Electrical Engineering

5+ years' experience within analog design

Highly motivated individual

Strong analytical and problem-solving skills

Strong knowledge of transistor level design and low power design techniques

Experience within BCD process

Experience with mixed signal design

Location

Chandler, AZ, USA

Barcelona, Spain

Munich, Germany

Netherlands

Taiwan

Remote
